These have been cleaned and fully lubricated. They move very smoothly and are tight with no perceptible play in the 2 primary direction

With my inventory, I have assemblies that are marked RSR 12W and RSR 12WV. They are mechanically and dimensionally the same. either a 12W or 12WV. If you order many assemblies, I will attempt to provide all the same part number for consistency, inventory allowi

All have metal/rubber shields on underside of the carriage to protect against contamination. Refer to the photos of the underside. Some of them also appear to have metal/rubber shields on the ends others do not. I cannot guarantee the unit you get will have end shi

Please be aware, if you attempt to remove the stop pins and slide the carriage off the rail, 1000's of tiny ball bearings will fall out of the c rail/carriage useless (unless you painstakingly re-install every one of them into the carriage). There are safe ways to transfer the carriag cannot offer refunds for assemblies which have been damaged due to the buyer's failed attempts at disassembling these intricate assem

Nice Used Slides

I've used slides like this before for some of my small projects. When I ran across these at this price I decided to buy 3 more (for X,Y, Z movement). They arrived well packaged. And even though the slides arre used, they are in very good condition. A good buy!
